BRIBING VOTERS

TO SIGN

ed a sum of money by one S. Tanaka, to sign a petition to withdraw his name from the petition of S. Ozaki, which he had signed. He accepted the offer and duly signed the petition to withdraw his name from the application, whereupon the said Tanaka refused to pay the sum of money in question.

Akina figures in another affidavit statement regarding the Kauai Wine and Liquor Company. The deponent says that Akina offered him $4 for a signature to the protest. He accepted, signed and received his four dollars.

Another native declares that he went to the office of C. B. Hall to sign for his company and while there signed another paper, in English, which he could not read. He found out later it was a protest against Ozaki's license, and says he didn't mean to sign any such protest. Similarly another Hawaiian swears that he was induced to sign against K. Odo without knowing what he was doing.

The various protests, affidavits and petitions are all on file in the Treasurer's office, and the number of them is constantly growing. They represent a fight to get licenses in Waimea, Kauai, in which the various parties are evidently doing hard hustling for signatures of voters for and against one another.

TRUSTEES CLAIM IT IS DICTATION

to be dictated to. They will take their own time and if the Honolulu do not like it they know what they can do.

Trustee L. A. Thurston stated this morning: "The trustees of the balesgue decline to be dictated to by the Honolulu or any other team in the league or elsewhere as to the time they shall take in the investigation of the charges brought against one of the teams of the League. The trustees are conducting the investigation and they shall do so at such time as they see fit.

"The trustees understand as well as any one that it is necessary to the welfare of the league that the investigation be over rapidly and the truth of the charges be determined. We intend to do that as expeditiously as possible but we decline to be hurried. We want the truth of the whole matter and we intend to have the truth if it takes months to get it.

"Do not understand me to say that I mean we will waste time in the matter for we will not for we are desirous of getting the matter settled as the Honolulu are, but we do not like the idea of being dictated to.

"There was no meeting yesterday that amounted to anything and today we are prohibited from doing anything by the fact that President Isenberg is confined to his home by a sprained ankle. I cannot say when we shall meet again."

Manager Charles Falk of the H. A. C. team was told of the foregoing statement by Mr. Thurston, and he said:

"I cannot understand the statement made by Mr. Thurston. There is no disposition on the part of any member of the team to dictate to the trustees or to avoid an investigation in any way. The whole team want the investigation and want it to be thorough and there is nothing in the resolution published in the morning paper that can be taken in the nature of dictation.

"There has been considerable time consumed already by the trustees and nothing has been accomplished. And although President Isenberg be laid up with a sprained ankle there is no reason to my mind why the rest of the trustees cannot continue the investigation in his absence.

"The delay in the investigation, was the cause of the meeting last night and it is unreasonable to ask the men to appear on the field until some decision is reached. Meanwhile I shall expect that while this matter is in abeyance any scheduled game in which we are to appear be postponed until such time as a decision be reached.

"I do not want any newspaper controversy but in justice feel that this statement should be made."

TRANSPORT EXPECTED.

The transport Logan is expected tomorrow or the following day from Manila and Nagasaki en route to San Francisco.

MATE RETURNS TO DUTY

George Mansfield the second mate of the steamer Maui, who was severely injured by being struck by a heavy piece of timber while at work on the vessel, came out of the marine hospital today. He will resume his former position with the vessel. Mansfield was splendidly treated during his illness, the Inter-Island Company especially showing him every possible consideration and kindness. He was ill about two months.

MAIL ON SUNDAY.

The S. S. China will bring four days later mail on Sunday. She will probably arrive during the forenoon.

Paul Isenberg is confined to his home by a sprained ankle. He may not be out for several days.

FORMER PALACE GUESTS SETTLE THEIR SCORES

SAN FRANCISCO, July 11.—The great American conscience was stunned but not killed by the unpleasant conduct of the earth on April 18th. Managing Director John C. Kirkpatrick of the Palace Hotel is willing to vouch for this over his own name since the flood of checks from suddenly departed guests began to pour in upon him.

There were about 700 persons at the Palace when the jar occurred. They were from all parts of the world, of every creed and no creed, business men, grand opera singers, poets, speculators, foreign princes, professional beauties and nondescripts. One and all left in a hurry. There was no one at the desk to remind them to pay their bills. Even Manager Kirkpatrick was indifferent as to the income of the hotel that morning.

So the guests scattered to the four winds, and when the fire was out, and there was time for sober reflection, the hotel keepers came to the conclusion that they were several thousand dollars in the bad on account of unpaid bills. They forgot that most efficient of collecting agencies, the great American conscience.

"It was natural that our guests should hurry away without stepping up to the captain's office," said Kirkpatrick yesterday. "The Captain himself was busy saving his own baggage. We did not care who, when or where they went to. Our interest in our debtors was almost as slight as our interest in our creditors. The world was coming to an end when the Palace was burning. Nobody needed the money."

"When the sun began once more to shine through the smoke, however, we felt unfriendly to ourselves. It was a pity to let all those people go without so much as an I. O. U., when we might have had the cash for the asking. They had no more use for worldly things that morning than the rest of us."

"Then there came a check from Paris, signed by a well-known author, who had been stopping in San Francisco to pick up some grains of information about human nature in the United States."

"I think I was at the Palace for three weeks," read the note which accompanied the remittance. "I don't remember exactly what your rates were, but my room was a good one, and I hope the enclosed will be sufficient."

"When I recovered from the surprise I argued that this was an exceptional case. Then a grand opera singer sent me about twice the amount of her bill, with a perfumed note of apology for having delayed it so long. Pretty soon checks began to come in from all quarters of the globe, and from all sorts and conditions of men. I never realized so thoroughly before from what an immense territory the hotel trade of San Francisco draws its patronage. Europe, Asia and Australia were all represented by these voluntary contributors."

"Our guests left us dazed and panic-stricken. They were far beyond the possibility of our reaching them, even had we desired to do so, before they remembered the little accounts with the hotel, but they remembered."

"A hotel man is not supposed to have a very rosy opinion of human nature, but it is certain that the substrata of character laid bare by a great calamity like ours is a poor mine for the pessimist. True, most of these wanderers who are deluging us with coin are Americans, traveling in various lands for pleasure. They are globe-trotters. But this makes it only the harder for us to locate them. What are we going to do when a man pays us twice the amount of his bill, and forgets to send his permanent address, if he has one?"

Other hotel managers are having similar experiences.

RESTRICT CHOICE TO BROWN AND CRABBE

The independent ticket movement in the County primaries is being knocked on the head by a new sort of combine, of Crabbe and Brown forces, intended to shut out the possibility of choice of a third man. In various precincts there have been delegates for Brown, delegates for Crabbe and Independents, who don't want either man. It was conceded to be very possible that these might control the convention and, in the event of a deadlock, stampede it for a dark horse.

There is an agreement on now, however, to place in nomination Brown and Crabbe and then close the nominations. It is said that both the Brown and Crabbe men will join in this action, which means, of course, that it will carry easily. This, in turn, means that the convention will be restricted in its choice, to the two men, and they will fight their battle out on the floor of the convention. The nomination of either seems likely to result in a split in the party, for which the Democratic forces are looking very eagerly.

BAD SHORTAGE OF FUEL OIL ON MAUI

LACK OF RAIN HAS MADE IT NECESSARY FOR PLANTATIONS TO DO IRRIGATING.

There has been a bad shortage of fuel oil on Maui. The S. S. Argyl sailed on July 13 from Port Harford for Kahului with a cargo of 25,000 barrels of oil. The lack of rain is the cause of there being such a demand for fuel oil. Irrigation has had to be resorted to on various Maui plantations and those that use oil for fuel have been short of the necessary article. The arrival of the Argyl will, however, relieve the shortage. The barkentine Fullerton with a cargo of oil for the Union Oil Company was sighted this morning from the coast.

ALAMEDA MAY DEPART LATE

Before the departure of the S. S. Alameda from Honolulu for San Francisco Captain Dowdell stated that the vessel was to go on the dry dock. The delay of the vessel reaching San Francisco this week however may cause either a postponement of the cleaning or else may cause the vessel to sail a day late from San Francisco. No advice on this score have been received so not until Saturday will it be known

COULD COURT MARTIAL CULLEN

THE QUARTERMASTER CAN BE BROUGHT UP FOR VIOLATION OF REGULATIONS.

While it is not likely that such action will be taken it is within the authority of the officers at the naval station to bring back Quartermaster Cullen from the Lawton and try him for alleged violation of the naval regulations. The regulations expressly forbid a sailor or officer of the navy to scurrilously criticize anybody else connected with the service. The statements attributed to Cullen in which he criticized Captain Carter his former commander on the U. S. S. Iroquois, would seem to fall within this definition. No action will be taken, however, in the matter until the return of Captain Carter from Midway. It is doubtful if he will consider the matter of sufficient importance to take any such steps towards further punishment of Cullen.

The Iroquois is due at Midway today from Honolulu.

ISLAND STEAMERS ARRIVE.

The steamer Claudine arrived this morning from Maui ports, Laupahoehoe and Hilo. She brought a small amount of freight but had a large crowd of passengers. Good weather was experienced during the trip. She went on the marine railway. She will not go out on her run this week. The steamer Maui which arrived this morning from Hawaii ports with live stock will take the Claudine's run. The steamer Nihau arrived today from Hawaii ports, and the steamer Iwaland arrived today from Eleale.

IS MORE POPULAR.

Haleiwa has never been as popular as during the present season. A number of Honolulu persons have engaged rooms for the summer at the low rates offered by the management. This is a delightful spot and one that is liberally patronized by townspeople every Sunday. The fare for the round trip including one day's board is only five dollars. There are as many attractions at Haleiwa as will be found at any of the coast resorts and it is select in its guests. Manager Biggood will supply all information relative to summer rates.
